ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Rabbi Dan Roth is a renowned author and educator. He has been fascinating his audiences with an innovative and exciting new approach to learning about Maaser Kesafim – Jewish Giving. Having taught hundreds of people from around the world about the subject, people often turn to him with their questions about allocation of their maaser (tzedakah) money. Rabbi Roth is in close contact with Rabbi Yitzchak Berkowitz, whom he discusses many of the issues raised on a regular basis.

WHAT AUDIENCES ARE SAYING

...by far the most engaging presentation I have ever heard on the subject. It was presented in a unique style that captured the attention and interest of both business and non business professionals alike. Using modern audio visual displays, the audience felt that your presentation related to the modern Jew of the 21 century. Your ability to take ancient laws and ideas and to package them in today's language, not only made the material more inspiring and impressive, but it made the presenter also all the more impressive as a special Rabbinic teacher.
